Yamaha Motor Team Manager Sato comments

We are aiming to achieve carbon neutrality and acquire various technologies that can be utilized in electric vehicles such as electric bikes. Since last year, we have fully participated in the All Japan Trial Championship, and this year, we aimed to accelerate development by entering three TY-E2.2. Although we have faced a series of races without victories until now, we are convinced that the key factors contributing to this victory and our sweep of the podium are the continuous efforts of our development department to evolve the machines, the riders' responses to these advancements, and the support of our customers, which collectively led to our success.
